Provisional President Huerta Denies That He Has Resigned, Will Resign or Flee Country. Says He Has Money for All Needs of State, but Does Not Say Where It Is.

Douglas, Ariz., October 18.-The ancient custom of heralding victory by making public demonstrations with the heads of the conquered was revived At Fuerte, Sinaloa, at the time of its occupation by the rebels two weeks ago, according to stories told to-day travelers who reached here. Following the invasion of Fuerte, the story runs, Yaqui Indians pursued the retreating Federal army and captured, among others, Prefecto Torres, A Federal commander. The Indians put him to death and returned with his head, parading it about the streets on a pole. Torres, it is reported, had threatened to execute any Constitutionalist who fell into his hands.

Will Not Resign.

Mexico City, October 18.—Provisional President Huerta has not resigned, nor has he fled from the capital. When seen at the national palace at 5 o'clock this afternoon he said he had no intention of doing either.

"When I resign," said General Huerta, "it will be to seek a resting place six feet in the soil. When I flee the capital it will be to shoulder a rifle and take my place in the ranks

Washington, October 18.—Through-out the day officials heard various rerumors that Provisional signed, or intended to do so, that he had cretly left the capital, and that General Blanquet would succeed him. State Department received so many in

The receipt this afternoon of the positive statement from Mexico City that Huerta did not intend to resign somewhat clarified the situation though administration officials still hoped for the ultimate elimination of the present Provisional President. There had been little disposition at any time, however, to credit the report that Huerta actually had submitted his resignation to his Cabinet, and that it Himself and Tells Why He Did Not Maske Sniling Trip.

Arrival of Rescued Women Attended by New York, October 18.—The arrival

the burning Volturno by the freighter Rappahannock, was the signal for the wildest scene of joy and thanksgiving witnessed here since the rescuing fleet began to bring in their cargoes of survivors. The women were transferred at Hallfax from the Rappahannock to the liner Florizet, which docked in Brooklyn. Ten of them were young had given up for lost, brought tears to the eyes of the immigrant officers. Mrs. Polack was the last woman to leave the Volturno. She was lowered into one of the Rapahannock's boats believing that her children already were there. When the boat put off from the blazing ship and she found that the little ones were left behind. she became hysterical, and the boat's crew had all they could do to keep her from jumping overboard. She remained in a hysterical condition during all the journey to New York. Here, for the first time, she learned that the chil-dren had been saved by one of the boats from the Kroonland. They met her at the dock with their father, an East Side merchant. The ten girls were taken care of by the Jewish im-migrant societies.

Washington, October 18.—Discussion of the tango and the other modern dances has divided delegates to the Women's National Press Association, in session here, and to-day some of them barely speak. The association apparently is torn into two camps—those who can see artistry in the new dances and those who believe them a menace to the morals and manners of the young. No truce is in sight.

Mrs. B. Frank Brown, of Chicago, prominent in the women's clubs of that city, held that the "regulation of modern dancing was one of the most important duties confronting the mothers of to-day.

Watson, journalist, editor and one time presidential candidate of the "People's party," accused of sending obscene matter through the mails, they will be summoned by the defense, according to statements tonight by court officials. The government does not expect to introduce churchmen in support of its case.

Watson is charged with printing alleged objectionable matter in two of his magazines in a vigorous attack upon the Roman Catholic Church. His case is set for Monday.

Statistics Show Exports Fall Off and Imports On Increase.

Washington, October 18.—Exis the American cattle and beef as a factor in the world commerce. This virtually is the declaration of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domes's'c Commerce, which announced to the that such exports had dropped in less than a decade to a startlining extent. In 1904, the Bureau Statisticians found this country sent cattle and beef abroad to the value of more than $44,000,000 during the eight months ending August 30. In the corresponding eight months this year a scant million dollars in such products have gone to the larders of the people of other lands.

As an aggravating fact accompanying the falling off in exports, the United States has been forced to draw more and more on other countries for beef animals, says the bureau. This demand for food from outside has been met mostly by Mexico, which, in spite of its internal troubles, has been able to send approximately 392,000 head of cattle in the United States.
